BARE RUTH AT HOT SPRINGS—IN GOOD SHAPE MENTALLY AND PHYSICALLY.

A STORY OR TWO

A noted bishop of the Methodist church was one day taking in the scenery in Central park, New York, hoping thereby to ease his rheumatic limbs, says Capper's Weekly. After sitting for some time on the bench he attempted to rise without success. A little girl nearby rushed to his aid, saying, "Oh, let me help you." He helped her up a lot of times and he was less drunk "an you are."

The New York Witchman-Klanish gets this one from somewhere in India: One night Near Eddin Hodja thought he saw a burglar in his room and shot at him. In the morning he found he had sent an arrow through his own shirt, which hung in the window. Failing on his knees he prayed fervently, "I thank thee, Allah, that I was not hit in the chest."

LENIN HAD PRINCELY SALARY

As Premier of Russia He Once Drew $27,000 Rubles a Month, Amounting to $5 in American Money.

Moscow, Russia—I came across a bit of Lenin's autobiography the other day. The authorities were holding an exhibition, "Red Moscow," in the old English club here. Among the exhibits are some of the original documents connected with the revolution. These include Lenin's papers filed out by himself as a member of the Communist party.

In these papers Lenin gives the date of his entering the Communist party as 1898. He was accepted by the founder of that party.

Lenin was arrested three times. In 1897, when seventeen years old, he was sent out of Kazan and in 1895 he was sent to Siberia, where he remained until 1897. He was arrested again in 1900.

He has no religion, having been an atheist since he was sixteen. He was educated in a gymnasium, finishing in law in a university (Kazan) in 1891 as extern. He described his profession as literature.

Lenin's income, as president of people's commissars, that is, prime minister of Russia, was given in January, 1921, as 13,500 rubles a month, and in August, as 27,000 rubles. Those amounts at those times were equivalent to $2 or $3.

BRITAIN HAS SOCIETY LIKE KU KLUX KLAN

Order of Crusaders Said to Be Similar in Aims to the K. K. and Fascisti.

A strange secret society known as the Order of the Crusader, which seems to blend with an antique ritual certain points in resemblance to the Ku Klux Klan of the United States and the fascisti of Italy, is springing up in England.

According to a member of the order it was founded two years ago. During the last two months it has been conducting an intensive campaign for membership, and while it refuses to divulge the number of its members, it asserts it has them in every nook and corner of Great Britain.

The avowed object of the society is "to bring the spirit of the crusader to everyday life."

Meetings of the order are held behind closed doors. On ceremonial occasions the members are dressed in a striking garb. Officers wear crimson robes with a large white cross on the left side, and other members adopt a black gown with a white surplice over it, on the breast of which is a red cross.

Some of the emblems of the order are suggestive of a different purpose, however. In the ritual a sword is carried to symbolize "service," and "loyalty" is expressed by carrying banners.

The literature of the order states that it aims at forming "in every word of each town and in every large village a conclave of Crusaders, composed of real leaders of public opinion." Later on they plan "to get Crusaders into parliament, on county and local councils, in the churches and out of them."

The initiation, as regards time, place and ceremony closely resembles the Ku Klux Klan.

When a candidate is initiated he is expected to make a donation of £2 or more, there being no limit, to be used by the officials as they see fit.

BURIED ARM PAINED MAN

Patient Complained of Suffering Until Shorn Member Was Dug Up.

Yielding to persistent pleading of Lloyd Latham, a patient in a hospital at Fredericksburg, Va., who complained that his right arm pained him, the authorities exhumed and reburied Latham's arm, which had been severed close to the shoulder by a saw at a mill in Culpeper county.

Latham had been rushed to the hospital after first-aid treatment. Immediately after regaining consciousness he began to complain of pain similar to what he would have felt if his arm was still a part of his body, but cramped or bent in an unnatural position.

Efforts were made to relieve his mind, but he pleaded so hard and complained so constantly of woody increasing pain that it was decided to dig up the severed arm. The physicians found it in exactly the position Latham had described. The arm was stretched and reburied. Since then Latham has made no complaint.

The Shave.

Men that no longer hold the shaven to ceremony—"which," as Macaulay so truly said, "is everything else to our hair-dressers should perish," would suffer to show the whole extent of his beauty and power—do not wish to stand on a resplendent mountain peak, but are content to be in the valley without the companionship of light—Joseph B. Auerbach.

Dulcify Command.

Samuel and Jack had quite a perfect snow fight. Jack coming out victor and leaving Samuel in a heap on the sidewalk, bedraggled and smiling. Samuel was furious, and so the get up and started for the house she called after Jack. "That's you dare to come back to my yard next time."

LOOKED IN FACE OF DEATH

Anglo-Indian Merchant's Close Call at the Hands of Servant Who Sought Revenge.

Pointing to a fine art in India. It is a favorite way to be revenged on a foe in a private quarrel. Sometimes a reptile is placed in a man's bed, or the more subtle method may be adopted of inserting poison in his belongings.

An Anglo-Indian merchant once had an adventure that nearly cost him his life. He had gotten along well with the natives, but two of his servants had had a quarrel over a girl. The merchant intervened in the affair. Laj, the unsuccessful suitor, began to make trouble, and his rival, the husband, warned the merchant against him.

Nothing happened for some months. Then the merchant went away on business. On his return he was told that Laj had been caught in his bedroom.

In the East this means trouble. The merchant called his servants and had a thorough search made of the house. They scrutinized every knob, handle and garment to see whether it had been smeared with poison or with juices that attract venomous creatures.

The merchant was tired, and after eating went to the cabinet where he kept his cigars. As he took up a box he noticed on it the marks of dirty fingers.

He was about to take a cigar when he noticed that something was wrong with the head. A second and a third were like the first. In each a small, almost imperceptible rose thorn had been inserted and on it was a dab of brown slime, still moist, the same color as the cigar.

The merchant notified the police. In half an hour an officer appeared with Laj under guard. The merchant stated the case to the officer, and taking one of the cigars, handed it to Laj with the command, "Take it and smoke it."

The man refused. His guilt was proved.

Up to the Minute in Rings.

The Woman had gone with the engaged girl to look at platinum wedding rings. But as the delicate hoops with sentimental wreaths of orange blossoms or prosaic but gorgeous diamond studded ones were placed on the strip of black velvet on the counter the Woman's attention wandered from the eager engaged girl to a melancholy customer of many years.

There was nothing extraordinary about this person's appearance either in features or clothes, but there was a positive manner in the way she picked up the rings displayed for her inspection that aroused interest. After she had examined a dozen wedding rings or so as though they were the most commonplace merchandise instead of the most wonderful thing in the world to buy, the Woman saw her slip one on. And as she wondered how anyone could be quite so cold about that sort of a purchase she heard her say:

"I don't want to spend a lot. But it must be platinum. This is my third. I've had the gold and the white gold, so I might as well have the latest there is to have now."—Chicago Journal.

TREAT FOR SCHENEVUS

Dr. George P. Bible, Humorous Lecturer and Entertainer, to Appear Thursday Evening.

Schenevus, Mar. 9. — Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist church, Dr. George P. Bible, humorous lecturer and entertainer, will give one of his popular lectures. Dr. Bible is a master. He has a message and knows how to deliver it. In one of his lectures there is common sense, wit and humorously blended. He is one of the most versatile lecturers on the platform, plenty of humor, but always a strong background of high and noble sentiment and sense. Several from this place had the privilege of hearing him one summer at the Worcester Chautauque and they are enthusiastic about having the opportunity of hearing him again.

Services Sunday at Methodist Church. Sunday morning at the Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. C. J. Henry, of Syracuse, representing the Lord's Day alliance, will speak at 10 p. m. It is expected that Rev. H. F. Lesh of Worcester will preach, and following the evening service will conduct the Fourth Quarterly conference in the absence of Dr. M. S. Goddard, district superintendent.

Personals. The Truth Seekers have just completed a fine hand-picked quilt which is for sale. Any one interested may inspect the quilt at the home of Mrs. D. Stanley Chase on Main street. BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids of calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Headaches, "dizziness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

WELL KNOWN STAMFORD MAN

Duncan K. Grant Dies This Morning in Kingston City Hospital.

Duncan K. Grant died at the Kingston City hospital at 4 o'clock Thursday morning. The remains were brought to the residence of his brother, Judge J. P. Grant, Saturday afternoon, at 2:30. Interment in Stamford cemetery.

Mr. Grant came here recently from Connecticut and while seriously ill and delirious at Rapham Lodge, jumped, last Friday, from a second story balcony of the house, striking on his face breaking his nose and otherwise injuring himself. Saturday morning he was taken to Kingston hospital by Dr. Sanford.

Mr. Grant was born on a farm near Stamford and was 71 years of age. He supervised the construction of several power dams and of other public works in this section, and was the founder of Granthurst Park, a summer residential part of Stamford village. Of late years he has been a resident of Connecticut.

He is survived by his brother, Judge J. P. Grant, of Stamford.

Doing Good Work. The Young Women's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church realized $18 from a bake sale held last week. The newly organized society is doing real missionary work; clothing six children who reside in Jefferson, the father being ill and unable to work and the mother doing the best she can to support the family.

Successful Apron Sale.

A unique and successful Apron social was held in the parlors of the Methodist Episcopal church Thursday evening. There was a large crowd present and all report a pleasant time. The receipts were about $150.

Church Water Pipes Freeze. The water pipes of the Methodist Episcopal church are frozen and plumbers and electricians are having trouble to thaw them out.

Senior Class to Visit Washington. The Senior class of Stamford secondary are planning on a trip to Washington, D. C., after graduation in June, for patriotic and educational reasons. To raise funds for the expense of the trip the class plan to hold entertainments, candy sales, etc. They expect to make the trip by automobile. There are 12 members of the class.

Hager-Schaefer.

Announcements have been received of the marriage of Stamford's Deputy Postmaster, Ernest Hager, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hager, to Miss Alma daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip F. Schaefer of Fleischmanns, the ceremony being held in Fleischmanns, Sunday, March 4. Mr. Hager is one of Stamford's popular young men and they have the best wishes of their many friends for a life of success and happiness.

To Engage in Business in Albany. Paul Matthews, prescription clerk in VanDyke & Hainstock's drug store, expects to move his family to Albany May 1st, where he will engage in business with his brother, L. G. Matthews. The new firm has purchased a drug store at the corner of North Scotland avenue and Quail street in that city.

Village Election.

Village election will be held Tuesday, March 12. Two propositions will be submitted to the voters. Prop. 1—To raise $200 for the benefit of the Village Library. Prop. 2—Appropriating $1,000 for the use of the Chamber of Commerce. It cost $22,473.55 to run the village last year. The village has a bonded indebtedness of $22,100 and owes a bank note of $4,500.00. There were several unusual calls for money including money for purchase of a new pump, engine, and a road machine, $142.50. It is estimated $14,850.00 will be required to defray expenses of the village the coming year. The village fire department has a fund of $1,400 raised for the purpose of installing a fire alarm system which they hope to install this summer.

S. Welch is the Democratic candidate for president, Dr. Ralph Kipp, for trustee, Eugene Myers, treasurer, John C. Grant, collector, Thomas Barnes, street commissioner. The nominees for president and trustee on the Republican ticket declined nomination, and the balance of the ticket is same as the Democratic.

Birth. Born, March 8, to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kelley, a son.

Local and Personal.

C. J. Hamilton, Frank Wilcox and Mrs. William Thorne, who have been quite ill, are improving and able to be out doors. — George Canfield, painter and contractor, son of Hector Canfield of this place, who has for several years resided in Iowa, has recently located in California. — Edmund L. Eisenrich, electrician, has taken the contract to install an electric lighting plant for Taylor Brothers, Jefferson, to light their store, two residences, barn and ice house. — F. L. Churchill and forces of men are re-decorating the Eagle hotel at Peekskill, recently leased by James Churchill, proprietor of Ye Olde Delaware inn. — R. L. Thompson of Hobart has charge of Stamford station during the illness of the agent, Robert Welch. — Mrs. A. Morrow is spending two weeks in New York city with relatives and friends.

THOUGHT BACK WOULD BREAK

Nothing Helped until She Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"When my baby was born," says Mrs. Pinkham, 106 High Street, New York City, "I got up too soon. It made me so sick that I was tired of living and the doctors ran me down something awful. I could not get up out of bed mornings on account of my back; I thought it would break in two, and if I started to do any work I would have to lie down. I do not believe that any woman ever suffered worse than I did. I spent lots of money, but nothing helped me until I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I felt a whole lot better after the first bottle, and I am still taking it for I am sure it is what has put me on my feet."

If you are suffering from a displacement, irregularities, backache, nervousness, sideache or any other form of female weakness you should write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Affections Peculiar to Women." It will be sent you free upon request. This book contains valuable information.

HON. D. F. WILDER RESIGNS

Resigns from Consular Service April 1 After Long and Creditable Record—Planning to Return to Home.

Hon. David F. Wilder, whose home for the more than 25 years that he has been engaged in the consular service of the United States, has been Oneonta and who has during all these years been looking forward to the time when he should return to spend the remainder of his days among old friends in Oneonta. He has resigned his position as consul general at Auckland, New Zealand, to become effective April 1. He will be unable to leave his post until the latter part of that month, however, as he will have considerable work to do in settling his accounts and returning for the previous quarter and in familiarizing his successor with the duties of the office there.

It is the present plan of Mr. and Mrs. Wilder upon leaving New Zealand to go to Australia and spend probably a couple of weeks seeing that country and learning of its people and products. Later they will sail for Vancouver, B. C., but plan to halt for a more or less extended stay at Suva, Fiji Islands, Honolulu and Victoria, B. C., before reaching Vancouver. They will stop at Detroit, Mich., for a visit with a brother of Mrs. Wilder, who is a physician there, before continuing on.

Mrs. Wilder's health has not been of the best since they have resided in New Zealand and it is not improbable that upon their arrival in the east they will take a house at some resort along the Jersey coast until such time as they decide to come to Oneonta to take possession of the home on Ford avenue which was left them by the will of his brother, the late George F. Wilder.

Mr. Wilder, since his retirement from congress after representing this district, has been practically continuously engaged in the consular service. He has served his country in that capacity at Barbadoes, West Indies; Singapore, Straits Settlement, Kobe, Japan; Manila, New Zealand; Vancouver, British Columbia; Zurich, Switzerland; Genoa, Italy; and Auckland, New Zealand, with the rank of consul general after his term at Barbadoes. Each of his chances was in the nature of a promotion and his record among the men who have served in the consular service is of the highest. He retired at a time when he is doing excellent service for his country in New Zealand and with the regrets of the state department.

That the time is not far distant when he will come to his home city to take up his residence here permanently is the wish of his many friends in Oneonta and Otsego.

BARACA-PHILATHEA CLASSES

Of First Baptist Church Banquet at the Church Last Evening—About One Hundred Fifty Enjoy Excellent Speeches.

The twenty-first annual banquet of the Baraca and Philathea classes of the First Baptist church was held at the church parlors last evening with about 140 in attendance. An excellent dinner was served by the Ladies Aid society and about 150 were seated by them for the work of their society.

There are two Baraca and five Philathea classes in the church and all united. The room was very prettily decorated and the event proved one of the most enjoyable in the history of the church.

After the dinner Dr. Farley presided as toastmaster and a very good list of toasts were answered. The first to respond was Ralph Hannay, who spoke for the Junior Baraca class. He gave a brief outline of the work which his class is doing in the school and in the church. A piano solo with accompaniment by Miss Olive Vanderwerken, church organist, followed and proved most delightful.

Miss Matilda Barrett of the Farley Philathea class mentioned some of the activities of that class in interesting manner. Mrs. L. S. Darling of the Senior Philathea class made a strong plea for a Baraca-Philathea union, an organization which has proved helpful in many churches where there are both classes. Her hope that the First Baptist church of Oneonta might soon have a union met with many expressions of approval.

Byron Chesbro gave one of his very pleasing solos in excellent voice. The next toast was that of Lyman B. Blakeham and was, perhaps, the most carefully prepared of all. Mr. Blakeham has given considerable thought and search to his subject of "Epitaph" and his talk was very interesting. He traced the epitaph from early Egyptian times to today with many illustrations which he had observed himself, and his conclusions were very creditable.

An alto solo, with encore, was given by Miss Anna Darling and she received a hearty welcome. Mrs. E. J. Farley followed with some of her ideas for Baraca and Philathea work which made a real impression upon the audience.

Edward Tinker of the Senior Baraca class responded to the last toast with a review of the work of Marshall Hudson, the founder of the Baraca-Philathea movement. He indicated the growth of that organization to one of nearly a million followers.

The banquet concluded with the singing of America, the most successful banquet of the church from every point of view.

Funeral of Mrs. Gordon.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Harry B. Gordon were held at 2 p. m. yesterday at the family home, 115 Spruce street, this city. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends, and numerous floral tributes, including one from the Bridge and Building department of the Delaware and Hudson company, were evidence of the general sympathy and regard. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. J. W. Flynn of the First Methodist church, who read appropriate scriptural selections and followed with a brief address fitted to the life and worthy Christian character of the departed.

Following the funeral service the body was placed in the vault at Riverside cemetery for later interment. The bearers were Claude Becker, Owen L. Becker, Harry Gordon and Fred Smith.

Among the relatives and friends present from out of the city were David Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Pratt and daughter, Mildred, Mrs. Stanton Pratt and daughter, Elsie, Mrs. Cyrus Gordon, Fred Gordon, Mrs. Lena Greenhouse, from Van Hook, Miss Bernice Gordon, Mrs. Sanford Gordon and Mrs. Daniel Young of Cobleskill; Mrs. Helen Stillman and Mrs. Mary Ralston of Albany.

Spring Real Estate Activities.

Our 1923 list of Oneonta property containing homes in all sections of the city. Several new cottages, nearly completed, will be finished to suit taste of buyer. Or, we will build from beginning using buyer's plans. We gladly show our property and talk with house-hunters.

We invite property owners to list their houses with us, by our "no sell, no pay" plan, no charge for listing or withdrawal.

By constant advertising we have the usual number of spring out-of-town buyers, many with spot cash, ready to buy if they can get what they want. It is up to us to suit them. If we do not have the listing we can not suit our prospects and the city will lose a chance. Our business is to buy if owners will sell.

We have calls for singles, doubles, rooming, two flats, corner stores, brick blocks, residences, vacant lots, near by plots, factory sites and business opportunities. We do not deal in farms. H. M. Hard & Son, long established real estate dealers, 8 Broad street, advt 21.

Loosen Up That Cold With Musterole

Have Musterole handy when a cold starts. It has all the advantages of grandmother's mustard plaster WITHOUT the blister. You just apply it over the fingers. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then comes a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Made of pure oil of mustard and other simple ingredients, Musterole is recommended by many nurses and doctors. Try Musterole for bronchitis, sore throat, stiff neck, pleurisy, rheumatism, toothache, croup, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pain and aches of the back or joints, sore muscles, sprains, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite, cuts of the chest. It may prevent pneumonia and "flu." 3c and 6c, various sizes.

DEATHS.

Mrs. Velle Dunn Bolles.

Mrs. Velle Dunn Bolles of Kortright died yesterday morning about 7:45 o'clock, at the home of her son, Michael Bolles, 9 Linden avenue, as the result of a shock which followed an illness of about four weeks. Mrs. Bolles fell at her home in Kortright about four weeks ago, breaking her arm just below the hip, and was brought to the home of her son that she might have the best of care. Grip soon set in and she was in failing health when the shock of yesterday morning occurred. Funeral services will be held from the home of her son, where she died, 9 Linden avenue, by Dr. Truman F. Hall of Cooperstown, Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock, and her body will be taken to the cemetery of Glenwood cemetery for interment in the spring at the age of 71.

Velle J. Dunn was born October 20, 1852, at South Kortright, and all of her life has been passed in that vicinity. She was united in marriage with J. Harvey Bolles February 18, 1891, and they were much respected residents of Kortright. Mr. Bolles died November 18, 1921, but Mrs. Bolles had lived there until she was brought here ill. She was an earnest member of the Unitarian Memorial United Presbyterian church of Kortright. Surviving her is one son, Michael Bolles of 9 Linden avenue, this city, two grandchildren, John A. Bolles of New York city, and Mrs. Lulu Mitchell of North Kortright, and one brother, A. T. Dunn of 41 Cedar street, this city.

Express Company to Move.

The American Railway Express company, for some time past located at 21 Broad street in the block recently purchased by J. D. Schatzky, will share quarters after April 1 with the Southern New York Railway company on Chestnut street. Mr. Schatzky takes possession of his block on that date. The Express company will occupy the side of the trolley station where are now located the trolley offices and also the large space at the rear of the room formerly used by the United Express company. The trolley company will construct a ticket office to the right of the entrance.

Mrs. Charles C. Haynes Dead.

Charles C. Haynes of East End received word last evening that his wife had died at the Binghamton State hospital Friday, and while Mr. Haynes did not talk with one of the doctors he understood that the cause of death was influenza. Further particulars of her life will be given in a later issue of The Star.

WITHDRAWALS IN OTSEGO

TWO HUNDRED FORTY ONE CANCELLATIONS OF DAIRYMEN'S LEAGUE POOLING CONTRACTS.

District Representative Vredenburg Gives Out Figures Yesterday 10:10 in Junior League Territory—Official Record Number of Withdrawals Not Known.

Two hundred and seventy-three cancellations of pooling contracts and League membership association were made in Otsego county during the period for withdrawals, which ended on February 28, according to figures made public yesterday by Donald E. Vredenburg, district representative with offices in Oneonta. There were approximately 2,600 members in the county before the withdrawal period, which makes the percentage of cancellations less than ten.

The following table gives the number of withdrawals and the number of previous members in each local in the county under the supervision of Mr. Vredenburg. The locals in South Edwards, West Edwards and Unadilla Falls are in the county but not in Mr. Vredenburg's territory. There were 32 withdrawals from those locals. Their total membership is about 400.

Totals 241 2,181

The large number of withdrawals in Cherry Valley Mr. Vredenburg explained by stating that the Borden's had been active in that territory and that many farmers had been of the opinion that that company was to buy non-pooled milk again.

Mr. Vredenburg stated that many of the farmers who withdrew were not in the field milk or cream class and that others were inactive. He stated that many were reconsidering their cancellations.

At the headquarters of the League in Otsego it was stated yesterday that the total number of cancellations was 10 per cent of which 500 were in Oneonta and two, 4,079 in classes three and four, and 1,690 were from farmers who had not pooled milk last year. Otsego county was one of four counties with lowest number of cancellations. In Delaware county there were 410 cancellations. The largest number were from St. Lawrence, Franklin, Jefferson and Lewis counties. Only normal cancellations were reported in sections where the League has its own plants or where Borden plants are located. The largest number of cancellations were in butter and cheese sections or where the pooling facilities had not been completed.

The statement continues: "An analysis of these cancellations shows that they will not affect either production or sales of operations of the League in any way. Actual cancellations from active poolers are more than offset by the number of new contracts received during the year. These new contracts received from March 1, 1932, to March 1, 1933, total 9,263. The membership is now solid and plants are being operated more efficiently than ever. The sale of League products is increasing rapidly."

SPRAY FOR APPLE APHIDS

Eggs Hatched With First Warm Days Spray Must Reach All Buds.

As the days grow warmer and the buds begin to swell and show green at the tip, the apple aphids begin to hatch out and cluster on the buds, where they begin feeding on the tender green tissues. At this time the insects are much more susceptible to spray applications than a little later when the apple foliage has advanced sufficiently to afford the aphids some protection, says the entomologist at the New York Agricultural Experiment station at Geneva. Three-fourths of a pint of insecticide diluted with 100 gallons of spray mixture gives very satisfactory control, says this authority, provided a very thorough application is made.

Spray From Ground.

In the Station Experiments, adequate control has been obtained only when the spray was applied from the ground and under the trees rather than from the spray rig as is commonly done in New York orchards. This is due to the fact, say the Station workers, that the lower buds on the tree and the undersides of the twigs and branches are not thoroughly covered with the spray when it is applied from the top of the spray tank. On the other hand, when spraying is done from the ground and when the operator moves about under the tree so as to insure wetting the underside of every twig and branch, the pests may be completely wiped out.

HOBART VILLAGE VINE

DONALD E. GRANT STOCKPORT ATTORNEY IN CHARGE OF CASE APPEALING TO COURT

Court Rules That Public Service Commission Was Right in Blocking That Railroad Avenue in Hobart Village Cream Line and Between Tracks at Grade — Railroad Company Had Appeared.

The village of Hobart scored a decisive victory in its fight to extend a street across the Ulster and Delaware counties and Attorney Donald E. Grant of this city won his first case in the appellate division of the supreme court when that body handed down a decision yesterday affirming the order of the Public Service commission dated October 25, 1932. The Ulster and Delaware Railroad company had carried the case to the supreme court on appeal.

The board of trustees of the village of Hobart adopted a resolution to extend Railroad avenue in that village across the tracks and right of way of the U. & D. and applied to the Public Service commission for an order determining whether the proposed extension should be made at grade, below grade or above grade. The commission ordered that the crossing be made at grade. It was the contention of the village that the street extension would connect two separated portions of the village and would allow better access to the Sheffield Farm creamery.

In the appeal the railroad contended that the extension was unnecessary. The court decided that the fact that the board of trustees had ordered the extension on the ground of necessity was sufficient answer. The railroad further argued that it had not been given due notice of a hearing at which the necessity of the extension would be considered. The court ruled that the notice given was sufficient under the law.

The court then decided that the only question reviewable upon the appeal was whether or not the Public Service commission, in determining that the extension should be made at grade, rather than below grade or above grade, properly exercised that discretion in the matter which had been committed to it. Proof had been given before the Public Service commission that a crossing of the railroad right of way underneath its tracks would be impracticable because any street excavation made would be flooded by the waters of a neighboring stream. Proof had also been given, said the court, that an overhead crossing would be equally impracticable.

Such a structure would almost wholly occupy Railroad avenue, cutting off access to the railroad station and creamery from the business houses and residents upon Railroad avenue. Moreover, it would make Creamery street and therefore the creamery of the Sheffield Farms company, inaccessible to the patrons of that company.

Furthermore, the cost would be prohibitive, affirmed the court. The village of Hobart contains about 600 people and the appraised value of all the property therein is less than $250,000. "Yet the proposed structure would cost not less than $100,000, one-half of which will have to be borne by that municipality," continues the court opinion. "It would, therefore, seem that the Public Service commission were well within the exercise of a just discretion in determining that the crossing should be made at grade."

In view of these facts the court affirmed with costs the original order of the commission and also the later order of the commission denying a rehearing.

Harry H. Fleming appeared for the Ulster and Delaware Railroad company, Leonard P. Hale for the Public Service commission and Donald E. Grant for the village of Hobart. The case was argued in January.

COMPROMISE REACHED

In On Postponed Foreclosure Action Instituted by Alice M. Gould Against Fred L. Morning and Others—Court Issues Order for Protection.

For some hours yesterday there was doubt about the outcome of the foreclosure action brought by Alice M. Gould, formerly of Worcester but now of South Berlin, Mass., against Fred L. Morning and others, which was on the calendar at the recent term of the supreme court at Cooperstown and there by agreement adjourned to Oneonta chamber for March 9.

The action has been pending for some time and two or three adjournments had been secured because of the illness of Hon. Geo. M. Palmer of Cobleskill, who is the attorney of record for the defendant. At Cooperstown it was agreed that another attorney should appear for the defendant and the case be heard yesterday.

Yesterday when the case was moved, Mr. Fiesch of Unadilla, who it was understood was to be substituted, did not appear, but Owen C. Becker appeared for the defense. He asked for further postponement on the grounds that he had been engaged in the case that morning and could not go to one with the trial until he had been given time to examine the case and learn what the defense could prove.

The court thought the plaintiff entitled to a prompt trial because of the previous postponements and the fact that a large and valuable farm in the vicinity of Worcester is involved, and her interests should be protected. It was stated that the defense expected to prove that there had been misrepresentation in the sale, the representatives of the Strout agency having informed the purchaser that the farm was free from rock and stone, etc., and it was alleged that $2,000 damages had been sustained in addition there was certain grain valued at $325.50 which had not been delivered as agreed.

Judge Kellogg failed to see the necessity for further adjournment in view of the conditions and announced that if the defense was not ready to proceed yesterday that the case would be called at Cooperstown next Wednesday and would be tried at that time.

This ruling resulted in a conference between the opposing sides with the result that a stipulation was entered into, giving the plaintiff judgment for the amount claimed with costs and the defendant transfers to the plaintiff all the personal property covered by a chattel mortgage and to quit claim the property to the plaintiff and deliver possession immediately. The plaintiff under this arrangement pays the defendant $250 and agrees not to enter judgment for deficiency when the property is sold. It is also agreed in the stipulation that at any time before the sale of the property that the defendant pays the amount of the judgment together with the $250 paid to him by agreement that the plaintiff will return the property to the defendant.

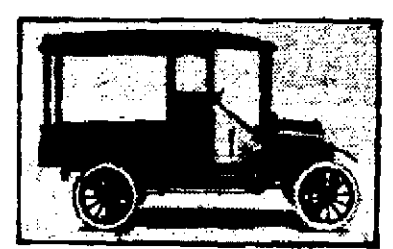

The plaintiff was represented by J. S. Waterman of Worcester with E. A. Hayward of counsel. Owen C. Becker appeared for the defendant and with him was Mr. Kniffin, law student in his office at Cooperstown.

A Real 50-Horsepower Motor and the Stuff to Go With It—$995!

Never was a car like Jewett for performance! It eats hills. Goes 2 miles or 60 in high—all the range you want. The husky Jewett Six motor has 249 cubic inches piston displacement, that's why. And you know that piston displacement is what puts performance in a car. High-pressure oiling system forcing 2 gallons of oil a minute to all main and connecting-rod bearings, means smooth running and long life.

Behind this tremendous power is "the stuff that goes with it." Every part is rugged, rigid and heavy enough to do anything you want, with never a creakback or whimper. Chassis is the finest of its kind. Judge its strength by Jewett's weight, 2805 pounds. Two hundred pounds more than any car its size! The frame stands and sturdy is six inches deep. Four big cross-braces make it stout as a bridge. No fabric universal joints in a Jewett. They're all steel, with oil sealed in for a year's use.

And the axles are all Paige-Timken. Ball-bearing steering spindles in the front axle give finger-touch steering ease. The new Paige-type clutch, too, makes a hit with women. Jump your foot off. You can't jerk the car nor stall the motor. And for easy shifting—well, you can change from high to second at 30 miles per hour. That's real handling ease to match Jewett's fifty horsepower. And for comfort—this husky car rides and drives like a big Six!

Let us show you this newest, best-built Six you can buy for $995! See Jewett before deciding.
